things to do in atlanta june 11-13

June 10th, 2010 | Author: Michelle Serra

I've decided Thursdays are going to be dedicated to things to do in Atlanta over the weekend. So here is my list for this weekend. If you have anything to add I would LOVE to have them in a comment. The more things to do in Atlanta, the better!

Stroll along the Midtown Mile. I live in Midtown and haven't really heard a lot about this event and the only information I could find was on their Facebook page, but what it looks like to me is this: (please correct if you know more). The Summer Stroll along the Midtown Mile is a way to introduce Atlanta to the new Midtown Mile (right around 1010 Midtown – near Ri Ra's and Ra Sushi). It appears that the restaurants and shopping areas will be providing great discounts, so it's a good family friendly event. There will be free parking (huge) at 1010 Peachtree St., 999 Peachtree St., 930 Peachtree St., 855 Peachtree St (Spire condominium) and 860 Peachtree St. (Viewpoint condominium). So come on out and see why we all love Mudtown so much!
